What are the best portable power stations?

To help you decide, I tested the efficiency, in a variety of scenarios, of the best portable power stations from Jackery, Oupes, EcoFlow, Anker, Goal Zero, Greccell, Bluetti, Dakota Lithium, Lion Energy, Vtoman, and Ugreen. What to Know Before Purchasing a Portable Power Station

Are portable power stations worth it?

Portable power stations are more powerful and cost effective than ever before. And, thanks to advances in lithium-ion battery technology, they're also lighter and more compact. Whether you've been dreaming of van life or are building out your emergency kit in advance of that next blackout, there is a power station that will meet your needs.

How much power can a portable power station hold?

While a particular power station might claim to hold 1,000 watt hours, the actual amount of usable power you can get out of it is a different story. The best portable power stations also have an onboard computer that shows you how much energy is left in your unit, as well as how much power it's currently using.

How do I choose a portable power station?

When selecting a portable power station, it's essential to identify your primary needs and priorities for owning one. Most portable power stations have main common features (such as a battery and ports to pull power from that battery).

Are portable power stations safe for indoor use?

Yes, portable power stations can be safe for indoor use if you follow manufacturer guidelines. Ensure proper ventilation and avoid high-temperature areas. Always check for any specific safety recommendations to keep you and your space secure. What Should I Do if My Power Station Won't Charge?

What is the best portable power station for backup?
